

Staytite Stock Management Systems

Staytite is here to help manufacturers achieve greater efficiencies!

"Our commitment to account management and quality drives us to provide the complete service to support the demands of our customers."

Staytite is a family-owned business established in 1978. Since its inception Staytite has built an unrivalled wealth of knowledge and expertise in supplying fasteners, C-class components, PPE and consumables. Staytite are specialists in providing products and services to help improve manufactured items and processes for its customers. Because the needs of manufacturing can vary, we have highlighted a selection of those services in this brochure are with a brief overview of what they can offer...

Parts available 24-7 without having to perform any administrative tasks

Our priority is to provide parts as efficiently as possible to increase your productivity. Critical to ensuring those productivity gains is Staytite delivering parts to racking or vending machines close to the point of use, so your workforce can obtain what they need quickly and freely without interruption.

Switching to a tailor-made system from Staytite is project managed with installation of racks and storage solutions designed to achieve maximum benefit to your workflow with minimal disruption to your shop floor.

Once installed, the stock replenishment process manages itself, driven by the demands of your production. Staytite envoys are scheduled to deliver to your shop floor on a regular basis, only filling depleted bins to pre-agreed levels.

Racking is tailored to your business, with standard and mobile racks to suit, as well as the latest cloud-connected industry 4.0 smart racking and vending machines available.

Customer Satisfaction

Staytite continually monitors its performance, both internally, and with scheduled review meetings and feedback from its customers.

Our Account Managers regularly survey the range of supplied components as well as the overall service provided to ensure the best possible experience.

Supplier Reduction

Staytite can provide an integrated supplier reduction program offering fasteners, kitting, C-class components, consumables, PPE, and much more besides as part of the stock management service.

Staytite has supplied a broad range of products, everything from regular paper towels to windscreen wipers for trains!

Engineering Assistance

Are you using the right parts for the job? Staytite can go beyond just supplying the nuts & bolts and other essential items by advising about their usage and offering engineered alternatives.

For example, the job of a fastener is to fasten. You may ask, why is there often so much choice? The answer to this question is, that although a common outcome of joining, attaching, or securing is needed, each application has its own unique requirements determined by the type of product, its use or its intended environment. For instance, the choice of fastener could be based on strength, aesthetic, assemble cost, assemble time, serviceability or corrosion resistance to name but a few.

Staytite Quality

Staytite is committed to quality and service, operating a Quality Management System accredited to the latest ISO standard. All of our deliveries received are inspected to customer drawings or the relevant industry standard to give you the confidence that our quality assurance provides.
